WORKMEN WANTED TO VOTE. -- In a New York paper, under the heading "Workmen Wanted," appears the following novel political appeal:

Workmen, awake; spring to your feet, Starvation's on your track; Submit no more—to freedom leap, And drive your masters back.

Demand the greenbacks for your toll; Contraction have an end; Ye feed the nation—till the soil; Your libertles defend.

Resumption is to pauper you, In raga to beg for bread; The money held by favored rew Monopolists instead.

Who vote for Tilden or for Hayes, Vote shackles on your feet; Hard money's where the mischief lays, It robs the bread you cat.

Cooper and Cary are the men Who take the workmen's part, Who every energy will bend To cheer each broken heart,

At Cooper's Institute we meet
On Wednesday evening next;
Samuel F. Cary speaks,
For greenbacks is the text.

One word in parting, let me say, Broak off old party ties, How great the pain—call any day, Pain paint will open eyes. Graud mass-meeting; Samuel F. Cary, of Ohio, the greenback nominee for Vice-President, speaks at Cooper Institute on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, October 30th; eminent speakers will address the crowds outside, accompanied by bands of music; rally, boys, rally once again in defence of the only money that saved our nation—the thood-stained

A SYSTEM OF ESPOINAGE EXERCISED OVER DON CARLOS-HE ASKS THE PROTECTION OF THE

Since the arrival in this country of Don Carlos, the Spanish Pretender, he has been stopping at the Windsor Hotel, in this city, with his suite. Two weeks ago a man applied for a room to Mr. Waite, one of the proprietors of the hotel, but did not receive it. He was recognized by Mr. Waite as a private detective in the employ of Henry Daprivate detective in the employ of Henry Davies, Jr., agent of the Spazish Government in this city. Mr. Waite did not at the time think that the detective's desire to become a guest of his had anything to do with Don Carlos or his suite, but he is now satisfied of the fact. About the same time—that is, two weeks ago-the Prince began to feel annoyed by a system of espionage which four strange men kept constantly over him. No matter whether it was on foot or in a coach that he left the hetel he was followed by one or two of these men, who always came from Van Clann's lager-beer saloon, on the corner of Forty-fifth street and Fifth avenue. The police officer stationed at the hotel was first notified of the fact, and by his advice Inspector Thorne was informed of the annoyance of which the Prince complained. Yesterday the Inspector sought the assistance of Judge Kasmire, at the Fifty-seventh-Street Court. The Inspector said that Don Carlos was ready to make a complaint against the four spies, whose names were Van Zandt, Taylor, Biffly, and Mohlman, and were undoubtedly in the employment of the man Davies, before were only the results of an over-excited imagination. Indee Families France Fra tary that in leaving his court to attend a COFFEE STORE, corner Main and Eighth STr matter of public importance he was doing an act very unusual with him or any other justice in this country. He did it as an act of courtesy to a stranger in trouble, but the Prince, if he wished him to take any official action in his behalf, would have to appear before him in person. The secretary explained that the Prince's intention was to come in person as soon as an American gentleman-Mr. Dana, of the Sun-should conclude his interview with him. Mr. Dana was the person, it was understood, whose advice was not to cause the arrest of the parties complained of. The secretary then left, and in a few minutes Don Carlos himself entered Mr. Waite's private office. He was smoking a cigar, and cordially sa-luted all present. Judge Kasmire told Mr. Waite then to ask the Prince if his wish was to make a complaint against any one. The Prince replied that he thought it better not at present. He was not afraid of those persons, but it was very annoying to him to be dogged like a criminal everywhere he went. He had an aversion, besides, of appearing in a matter of such a nature before the public in a court-room. Judge Kasmire said that he need not appear before the public, and that the matter could be examined in his private room at the court-house at a time to suit the Prince's convenience. The determination of the Prince not to make a complaint was fixed, and it was finally arranged that the future safety of the would-be Spanish monarch while in this city should be left in the hands of Inspector Thorne, and that if he were further annoyed the offending parties should be arrested at once and taken to court.—New York

A CHARACTERISTIC "AFFAIR OF HONOR."-

[Montreal dispatch to the Toronto Globe.]night (August 19th), Mr. Wilfrid Prevost, of this city, having lodged the necessary amount-$5,000-with the law firm of Messrs. Smith, Noble & Stephens, who have gone security for the appearance of the party at the next term of the Assize Court. It appears the duel has turned out a very expensive affair, having cost the parties over $600 during their imprisonment at St. Alban's. The sheriff allowed them every luxury, but is also reported as having charged pretty freely for them. Mr. Rouel is now able to move about, the wound caused by the ball having nearly healed up. Mr. Vaudry, at the second round, had a very narrow escape of his life, the ball of his adversary passing close to the right side of his head, and carrying away a tuft of hair with it. Mr. Rouel was also wounded during this round, and although the duel had been arranged for five rounds, their bonor was satisfied by the drawing of blood, and the two combatants shook hands and went into bondage good friends. The greatest excitement was caused in the vicinity of Richford, where the duel was fought, the country people flocking in crowds to the scene of the occurrence, and eager search was made for the spot where the spent balls had struck.

The cause of the quarrel was of the most for the spot where the spent balls had struck. The cause of the quarrel was of the most trivial nature, and to-night a grand "home warming" was held, when bygones will be

General Butler has almost captured the Republican Nominating Convention in the the forty-four delegates chosen he has secured thirty-five, and he needs only nineteen more to have a majority. Of course he has followed his old tactics, and the localities where he is strongest hold their primaries first for the sake of the "moral effect," and he has also been aided a good deal by Democratic votes. There are sixty-two delegates still to be chosen, and the chances are very much in favor of his obtaining the desired nineteen from among them.

Albert Rhodes has got himself into business. In the September Galazy he thoughtlessly asked, "Shall we drink wine?" And now postal-cards are pouring in upon him by thousands bearing affirmative answers, and asking him to name the time and place. MPORTANT TO PARENTS AND

MOUNT DE CHANTAL ACADEMY OF THE VISITATION, NEAR WHEELING, W. VA.

Parents in quest of a first-class school for their daughters will do well to investigate the claims of this eclebrated Academy. For thoroughness in every department of female education MOUNT DE CHANTAL ranks pre-eminently high. Great attention is given to perfect the pupils in writing and speaking French with fluency. For those sufficiently advanced it is the language of their recreation hours. The purity of accent and correctness of pronunciation acquired in this institution have long been a subject of surprise to the native Parisian. The renown for the superiority in music is so widespread as to have made this Academy almost a national one. One feature in particular that should recommend MOUNT DE CHANTAL to the sensible parent is the influence exercised to form the pupils to views and habits of economy, and to render them really practical and useful women of society in after years. Simplicity of dress is enforced by rule.

These facts, united to the exceedingly moderate rates of board and tuition ($200 per annum), will we trust, secure to this school as large and desirable a patronage in the future as it has enjoyed in the past. For further particulars apply for a prospectus to the Directress of Mount de Chantal Academy of the Visitation, near Wheeling, W. Va. 19 1-3 m
